RAISING THE LEVEL OF BUSINESS EDUCATION

Established in 2010, the Calvin Center for Innovation in Business (CCIB) engages students, faculty, and the broader business community to support and continuously improve the Calvin University School of Business.

The work of the CCIB supports engagement with the business community and raises the level of business education and scholarship at the Calvin University School of Business to the Calvin U

PROMOTING EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING

The CCIB promotes experiential learning by arranging project-based experiences with businesses and non-profit organizations—an integral and distinctive feature of the business curriculum at Calvin.

The CAP program provides business students at Calvin with significant transformational learning experiences. The students work in teams as consultants for organizations on real business problems in several of their business courses, gaining valuable real-world experience.
