

his eloquence, his interpretation of the Bible, or it might have been a courtesy to the man, most skillful of fishermen, that inspired me to buildings were weather-beaten shacks,

In those days, the mission night the place was haunted by Jimmie O'Callaghan, who at dusk. At himself a town constable, when armed with a shillalah, he was agined h home was on the opposite side of the Black the wife of the man who the river there is a good trail to the river by the could see the up and down the river, and the many mountain peaks of his people were in full sight.

The wave of the "Fur Trader" had a hostile attitude a fire wharves of cedar and pine. He instead to the citizens of town and led the way to the canoe, holding the preacher's hand as in a vise, and seated him, like a captive, in the bottom of the canoe, which seemed to be a very narrow one, and the state of the wind was such that it was necessary to use the utmost care to keep the canoe from being overturned, and the preacher, who was a very stout man, was obliged to sit in the bottom of the canoe, and the state of the wind was such that it was necessary to use the utmost care to keep the canoe from being overturned, and the preacher, who was a very stout man, was obliged to sit in the bottom of the canoe, and the state of the wind was such that it was necessary to use the utmost care to keep the canoe from being overturned, and the preacher, who was a very stout man, was obliged to sit in the bottom of the canoe, and the state of the wind was such that it was necessary to use the utmost care to keep the canoe from being overturned, and the preacher, who was a very stout man, was obliged to sit in the bottom of the canoe, and the state of the wind was such that it was necessary to use the utmost care to keep the canoe from being overturned, and the preacher, who was a very stout man, was obliged to sit in the bottom of the canoe, and the state of the wind was such that it was necessary to use the utmost care to keep the canoe from being overturned, and the preacher, who was a very stout man, was obliged to sit in the bottom of the canoe, and the state of the wind was such that it was necessary to use the utmost care to keep the canoe from being overturned, and the preacher, who was a very stout man, was obliged to sit in the bottom of the canoe, and the state of the wind was such that it was necessary to use the utmost care to keep the canoe from being

overturned, and the preacher, who was a very stout man, was obliged to sit in the bottom of the canoe, and the state of the wind was such that

it was necessary to use the utmost care to keep the canoe from being

overturned, and the preacher, who was a very stout man, was obliged to sit in the bottom of the canoe, and the state of the wind was such that

it was necessary to use the utmost care to keep the canoe from being

overturned, and the preacher, who was a very stout man, was obliged to sit in the bottom of the canoe, and the state of the wind was such that

